Other Returns: AWI publications noted above carry an estimated retail value of over $1,500 USD. All AWI members receive generous discounts especially on multiple quantities and case orders. Price breaks afford members with a cost effective means to re-distribute AWI publications for corporate marketing and information resources for company personnel, contractors, design professionals and other customers. Non-members pay full retail fees.

Associated cost: There is no added cost to members for these exclusive AWI membership benefits.

How to participate: Upon joining, AWI automatically sends a collection of publications or subscription to the serial periodical as your first new member benefit. In other cases, when a new version of an existing AWI publication is announced, members are invited to order their "membership benefit" copy. Either way, you benefit. Watch for AWI announcements.

Questions: Call or email Angie Fuller, AWI Membership and Chapter Development Coordinator at 571-323-3618 or afuller@awinet.org with any questions and suggestions.
